SUTTON
Sudden Death of Silas E. Ball, The Fourth Aged Resident To Die In Four Weeks.
(H. A. Blake, Correspondent.)
Silas P. Ball died very suddenly at his home Friday afternoon. He had just returned from West Burke where he has been on business, had put his horse into the barn, went into the house, and told his wife that he did not feel well. He sat down in his chair, threw his head back and was gone. Mr. Ball was a native of Sutton where he has always resided. He was son of Samuel and Betsey (Brewer) Ball who died in town years ago. Silas succeeded his father, and remained on the old farm all of his life. Mr. Ball was well known and held the respect of a large acquaintance. Mr. Ball was united in marriage with Julia Peck of Lyndon more than 45 years ago. Mr. Ball had held some of the offices in town and was faithful in all of his duties. He was a member of the Free Baptist church for 53 years, and held the office of deacon for several years. He asked to be relieved and at the last annual meeting of the church his request was granted and he was made honorary deacon. As the nearest relatives he leaves his wife who is feeble, two daughters, Mrs. George L. Gordon and Mrs. Eber L. Watson, one sister, Mrs. Julius C. Gray of St. Johnsbury besides several cousins.

Mr. Ball has been in poor health for some time past, a valvular disease of the heart and hardening of the arteries being the trouble. The funeral service was held at the Free Baptist church Sunday afternoon, attended by Rev. J. W. Burdin of Lyndon Center, a former pastor, assisted by Rev. C. R. Upton, the present pastor. The burial was at the Village cemetery. Those from out of town at the funeral were Mrs. Vera Gray from St. Johnsbury; Mrs. John McLoughlin from Westmore; Charles Ball and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Coe, J. F. Ruggles and wife from West Burke; Iphus Gordon and wife, Joseph Smith and wife, Campbell and Mrs. W. A. Densmore from Lyndonville; F. E. Chapman and Ruth, David Chapman from Lyndon Center, and many others. S. P. Ball's death is the fourth death of aged persons in this vicinity in four weeks, George Chesley in the edge of Sheffield, and Albert Ball, Mrs. L. W. Gordon, Silas Ball in Sutton. At Albert Ball's funeral the pastor of the church made the remark that he had been in Sutton about 10 months and this was the eleventh funeral that he had attended of aged persons, and had some part in the service. There have been two that he has attended since Mr. Ball's funeral making 13 funerals of aged persons in the 11 months that he has been here.

Willoughby Valley Pomona Grange held a meeting with Sutton Grange Thursday evening for the purpose of installing officers, District Deputy, L. O. Sleeper of Newark Grange being the installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Eva Cheney of Sutton Grange. After the installation Sutton Grange served an oyster supper and other good things. There was a good attendance for such a dark, foggy evening.

The Wednesday evening service is to be at the residence of Mrs. Daniels. The regular monthly conference of the Free Baptist church is to be held at the hall Thursday afternoon at the regular hour, two o'clock.

H. E. Gaskill, administrator of the estate of Warren L. Gilman, has deeded all of the real estate to Mrs.

Shall we Turn Local Option VERMONT into a Prohibitory MAINE?

In answer to the query of the Local Option League, "Why Not Let Well Enough Alone?" the prohibitionists say: "Because We Want Something Better."

The experience of Vermont that state-wide prohibition is not "something better." On the contrary, the scandals and hypocrisies of the Vermont prohibitory law disgraced the state for 50 years.

As a sample of how the prohibitory law was violated, it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that under state-wide prohibition, in the year 1899, the United States government issued 808 licenses to sell liquor in the State of Vermont.

Under Local Option, in 1914, the federal government issued only 286 liquor licenses in Vermont.

Which do temperance people prefer, 808 places where liquor is sold in defiance of law, or 286 places where it was sold under strict regulation and police restraint?

Prohibition in Maine

The violation of the prohibitory law of Maine is as great a scandal today as was the operation of the prohibitory law in Vermont, 13 years ago.

Liquor is sold openly in absolute violation of law, and the violators are protected and encouraged by grafters, crooks and venal politicians.

Read the following from the daily Argus of Jan. 23rd, published in Portland, Maine, the largest city in that commonwealth:

"All the gin mills and booze joints in this city are now running wide open and in full blast. There is no concealment about it. There's a reason. As a specimen of smug hypocrisy you can't beat it. The rum sellers who voted the republican ticket at last election are now receiving their reward by being 'tolerated.' The unseen influences behind the mayor are already making themselves felt."

Does Vermont want the sort of prohibition Maine is getting?

Is this sort of thing better than Local Option?

Will Vermont deliberately take a step backward?

The answer is: Let Well Enough Alone!

How to Mark Your Ballot

If you believe that the Local Option law has been more effective than prohibition; if you believe it has decreased drunkenness and secret violations of the law; if you believe, in retaining the best temperance law Vermont ever had, mark the Perry law ballot like this:

Shall an act of the General Assembly of 1915, entitled "An Act to Prohibit the Sale of Intoxicating Liquors," become a law May 1, 1916?

Sutton Grange is to hold a social at its hall Thursday evening. A program is being prepared and supper will be served.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies Aid society which was held Saturday the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Sadie E. Blake; vice-president, Fanny D. Aldrich; secretary, Flora Stevens; treasurer, Ellen A. Gilman. During the year past the society has installed a new lighting system in the church, paid several other bills, and has a good sum in the treasury at the present time.
